Outback pilgrimage for St Leo's

Former Catholic parish priest, Fr Paul Finucane, was back in Cobar earlier this week with 18 Year 10, 11 and 12 students, four teachers and David Ella from St Leo's College at Wahroonga in tow. The group spent some time in Cobar as part of an outback pilgrimage tour which complemented aspects of the students’ study of the nature of religion and beliefs, particularly in regard to Australian Aboriginal beliefs and spiritualities, Aboriginal dreaming and its connection to the land and identity. While in Cobar the group visited the weather station, the museum (where they were snapped yesterday), Peak Gold Mine and the Open Cut lookout. Today they will visit Mt Grenfell before heading to Wilcannia and Whitecliffs.
